Updates on Pastor Jan's health

Rev. Jan L. Baderstadt's health continues to improve since his surgery last August 22nd. As of this writing, he plans to return to Nepal, leaving USA Jan. 5.

Pastor Jan underwent surgery on his left ankle where the doctors at the University of Michigan removed a very large cyst from within the ankle bone. Recovery has been slow, and while he is up and walking, he must wear a brace for the next several months to allow for proper healing.

This fall, doctors in a routine test discovered that his wife Barbara had scarring of the liver. This was apparently caused from medication taken due to her having Reynaud's syndrome. On Nov. 6, a liver biopsy was taken at St. Mary's hospital in Saginaw where they removed 2 ½ litres of fluid from her liver.

The biopsy revealed that there was no cancer, and the specialist has concluded that her liver issues can be controlled by medication. The Reynaud's Syndrome and the liver issues are both auto-immune syndromes and are in many ways related. According to the doctor, when a person develops one auto-immune syndrome, it is quite common to develop a second one.

LIMITED WALKING FOR SEVERAL MONTHS

While Pastor Jan will be returning to Nepal and Uganda, his walking will be limited while he is healing. Most of his work will be confined to city areas until the strength of his ankle is restored.

Pastor Jan is optimistic about what he hopes to be able to do with the next year. He's set a goal of trekking into the Everest region in February of 2019.

Their daughter Ruby graduated from Kathmandu University on Nov. 21 with a degree in dentistry. One week later, she became engaged to Anil Baniya in Nepal.

Pastor Madhav is the president of Blessed Bible Institute in Chovar, Nepal, which is located just outside of Kathmandu.
